

Parties!

Marcia Cross

"I'm helping my wife relax," said Eric Dane, appreciating Rebecca Gayheart-Dane's nonstop efforts as hostess. "I was stuffing gift bags till midnight!" she said.

THE FUND-RAISER

Rebecca Gayheart-Dane was the gorgeously harried hostess of the Butterfly Ball, which raised more than $1 million for the Chrysalis organization's fight to end homelessness. Sure, husband Eric Dane's Grey's Anatomy co-stars were on hand, but she had other guests on her mind. "My in-laws are in town," she said. Kate Walsh was more mellow: "I've had two potato chips and a pear martini that went straight to my head!" Jennifer Hudson kept her feet on firmer ground—for a while. "Oh my god, Tom Cruise is here. I'm not one to get starstruck, but that'll do it," she said, before floating back to earth. —L.S.

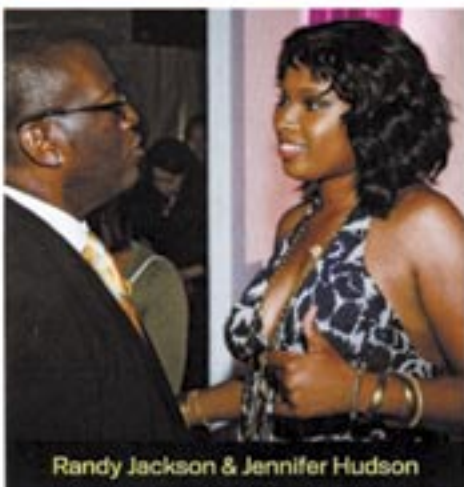

Nice Work

At the Butterfly Ball, stars saluted Chrysalis, which works to eradicate homelessness by providing employment opportunities. Nothing like a job well done.
